NOTES

- a) Please see the guidance for the declaration template.
- b) It is the responsibility of the importer to ensure that the exporter provides the necessary declaration referred to above.
- c) Formalin: Aqueous solutions of formaldehyde are referred to as formalin. 100% formalin consists of a saturated solution of formaldehyde (this is about 40% by volume or 37% by mass) in water. Importers should note that the time taken to fix the tissue varies with factors such as the thickness of the tissue. When tissues are initially fixed in formalin it is normal to use about 10 volumes of fixative to one volume of tissue. Formalin fixed specimens for research must be cut so that one dimension is no greater than one centimetre and must be placed in not less than 9 times its own volume of 10% formalin for at least 48 hours before being imported. Larger specimens for example for museum and educational purposes must be placed in not less than 9 times its own volume of 10% formalin for at least two weeks before being imported. When the tissue is imported into the UK, providing the tissue has been thoroughly fixed throughout, the same volume of fixative is not required.

- d) Safety: Importers are responsible for ensuring that the health and safety requirements relating to the specimens, any infectious agents and the fixative are appropriately assessed and dealt with by ensuring suitable packaging and labelling. See condition 3.
- e) This authorisation cannot be used for animal material fixed in formalin that is intended for display. If you wish to import other animal derived material, you will need to apply for a specific licence. If the diagnostic work involves animal pathogens, you will need to apply for a Pathogens Licence,
- f) A list of approved incineration premises is available on our website: <http://www.defra.gov.uk/foodfarm/byproducts/incinerators/index.htm>
- g) Further information on the importation of Specified Animal Pathogens is available from the Defra website at: <http://www.defra.gov.uk/foodfarm/farmanimal/diseases/pathogens/index.htm#list>

A copy of the Specified Animal Pathogens Order 2008 can be obtained from the following website: http://www.opsi.gov.uk/si/si2008/uksi_20080944_en_1
- h) If the material is to be re-exported, you should ensure that the importing country will permit entry and that you have the correct paperwork to accompany the consignment.
- i) Importers should notify Animal Health if they wish to use this Authorisation at APIChelmsford@animalhealth.gsi.gov.uk.
- j) Display item is defined in Regulation (EU) No 142/2011 as animal by-products or derived products intended for exhibitions or artistic activities.
- k) Should you wish to import Research and Diagnostic Samples or Trade Samples as defined in Regulation (EU) No 142/2011, please contact the Specialist Service Centre for Imports, Animal Health Chelmsford (see below).
- l) This authorisation only relates to animal products. If you wish to import live animals of the species listed above, you should contact the Specialist Service Centre for Imports, Animal Health Chelmsford (see below).
- m) Please refer to Importer Information Notes \(IINs\) on the Defra website for further information on importing animals and animal products.
- n) A list of Border Inspection Posts is on the Defra website.

- o) European legislation is available on the Commission website.
- p) Nothing in this authorisation gives exemption from any prohibition or restriction imposed by any other legislation including the Official Feed and Food Controls (England) Regulations 2006 , the provisions of the Food Safety Act 1990 and Regulations made under it, the Animal By-Products (Identification) Regulations 1995, the Marketing Authorisations for Veterinary Medicinal Products Regulations 1994 the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health, International Air Transport Association, the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species or by any regulation superseding or amending the same.
- q) This authorisation is granted under animal health import legislation and gives no exemption from any prohibition, regulation or restriction imposed by any other Government Department or Agency.
- r) Please note that while this authorisation is current at the time of its issue, conditions can be subject to frequent change and importers are advised to check the latest position with the Specialist Service Centre for Imports, Animal Health Chelmsford (see below).

CAUTION

It is the importer's responsibility to ensure that any import covered by this authorisation complies with the terms and conditions as set out.

Any breach of any conditions attached to this authorisation will constitute an offence against the Animal Health Act 1981.
