Rigid vehicles pulling trailers over 4,000kg – Tax Class 02 (trailer)

A rigid HGV of 12,000kgs and over pulling a trailer over 4,000kgs must pay a higher rate of tax.

To calculate the amount, you should combine the levy rate for the vehicle in table T1 with the VED rate payable in table T2 or T3. To do so, you need to know whether the vehicle has road friendly suspension, the number of axles on the HGV (not on the trailer), the levy rate, the trailer weight category, and the total weight of the HGV and the trailer.

(Please note: If pulling a trailer of 4,000kgs and under please use the tables on page 1).

Note – Where a table does not specify a VED rate for a particular vehicle combination, the maximum VED rate (£631 annual/£315.50 six months) and appropriate levy rate for the weight combination will apply. To calculate the amount, first look up the levy rate for the combined vehicle and trailer weight in table T1.

Note – Where the total weight of the vehicle plus the trailer exceeds the maximum weights shown below, then the VED is based on the highest weight shown. This will be 40,000kgs for a vehicle without road friendly suspension, or when the rigid HGV has two axles, and 44,000kgs for other vehicle combinations.

Weight category	Euro VI or later		Euro V or earlier
	12 months	6 months	12 months	6 months
12,000kgs-31,000kgs	£155	£93	£202	£121.20

Over 38,000kgs	£597	£358.20	£776	£465.60

Examples of calculations

- Two axles – HGV weight (not trailer) – 15,000kg, Trailer weight – 12,000kg.
Equates to a combined weight of 27,000kg.
For a Euro VI HGV with road friendly suspension, it is the following:
HGV Levy Rate = £155, VED Rate for 12 months = £238. Total = £393.
- Three axles – HGV weight (not trailer) - 23,000kg, Trailer weight - 7,000kg.
Equates to a combined weight of 30,000kgs.
For a Euro V HGV with road friendly suspension, it is the following:
HGV Levy Rate = £202, VED Rate for 12 months = £316. Total = £518.
- Four axles – HGV weight (not trailer) – 27,000kg, Trailer weight – 13,000kg.
Equates to a combined weight of 40,000kgs.
For a Euro V HGV with road friendly suspension, it is the following:
HGV Levy Rate = £776, VED Rate for 12 months = £446. Total = £1,222.
